Tills, scanners, shop networks and multi-branch support.

On the shop floor

Tills, barcode scanners, receipt printers and the PCs used for inventory and mail. The request is usually to stop a counter device failing, or to make several branches supportable by one arrangement.

In the stock room and office

Wi-Fi that reaches the stock room, a printer that someone owns, and a record of what is installed. CCTV is included when it is part of the brief.

What helps a quotation

The till or inventory system, how many branches, and whether you need equipment supplied, installed, supported, or only a comparison with what you have already been offered.
